St. James's, February 14.

YEsterday in the Evening the Marquis Viali, Envoy-Extraordinary from the Republick of Genoa (introduced by the Right Honourable the Earl of Sunderland, and conducted by Sir Charles Cottrell, Maſter of the Ceremonies), had a private Audience of Her Majeſty, to condole the Death of his Royal Highneſs.

And this Evening, at ſeven of the Clock, the Baron Rantzau, Envoy-Extraordinary from the King of Denmark, (introduced by the Right Honourable the Lord Chamberlain, and conducted by Sir Charles Cottrell, Maſter of the Ceremonies) had a publick Audience of Her Majeſty, to condole the Death of his Royal Highneſs.

Bruſſels, February 14. N. S. The Garriſon has received, during the Severity of the Cold, a double proportion of Wood for Fires to preſerve the Men in Health. The Rivers and Canals are ſtill frozen up, which hinders the Tranſportation of Forage for the Troops in Brabant. In the mean time the States have order'd all the adjacent Villages to ſupply the Horſe with as much Hay and Straw as they ſhall want, 'till the Rivers are Navigable. On the 8th Inſtant the Count de Tilly, who is to Command on the Meuſe, ſet out from hence to Liege. Count Oxenſtiern commands here at preſent. The Hereditary Prince of Heſſe-Caſſel is preparing for his Journey to Caſſel, where he deſigns to be preſent at the Marriage of the Princeſs his Siſter to the Prince of Naſſau. They write from Liſle, that the Prince of Holſtein-Beck, Governor of that City, had commanded all of the French Nation, whether Deſerters or others, who are not ſettled there, to appear before him within three Days, and give an Account of the Occaſions of their Abode in that Place, as well as Security for their good Behaviour during their ſtay. They add from thence, that the Enemy make all the Preparations poſſible for an early Campaign but that their Troops are in a very ill Condition, The Walloon Forces are ſo extreamly ſhatter'd, that it is ſaid they deſign to break one Regiment into another, to form a Body conſiſting of the whole which remains, without attempting to Recruit each Regiment, and preſerve it diſtinctly. This diſpoſition has created great Diſſatisfaction among the Officers. They write from Mons, that part of the Reinforcements which the Enemy expected out of Germany were arrived in French Flanders, and part between the Sambre and the Meuſe. It is reported, that Count Bergeick was very ill ſatisfied with his Reception at the Court of France, and that there has been no regard had to his Repreſentations. The Exchange of Priſoners is retarded by reaſon the French refuſe to pay ſuch Debts of certain Officers, as they have contracted during their Confinement. The Pruſſians who were taken Priſoners near Furnes, and conducted to Normandy, are not yet returned, though it is ſaid they left thoſe Parts on the 22d of the laſt Month; thoſe for whom they are to be exchanged are detain'd 'till their arrival. The French Priſoners here have lately attempted to break out of Priſon, and found means to undermine the Wall of it; but their Deſign being diſcovered, their Confinement is ſince more ſtrict. The Palatin Regiment of Haxhauſen is marched from Maſtricht to the Sluyce, to reinforce that Garriſon, and ſix Companies of Steinhauſen have march'd through that Place to Oſtend.

Hague, February 15. N. S. Letters from Cologn ſay, That the Nuncio reſiding there, had preſented a Memorial to the Magiſtracy of that Place, wherein he proteſted againſt the Treaty of Accommodation with his Majeſty of Pruſſia and that City; he aſſerts, that the Exerciſe of the Proteſtant Religion in the Houſe of a foreign Miniſter is prejudicial to the See of Rome, and conſequently to the Roman Catholick Religion: But this Application to the Magiſtrates has produced no other effect, than that it is declared a ſevere Penalty ſhall be inflicted upon any who ſhall print or diſperſe the Remonſtrance of the Nuncio. The ſame Advices add, that the Palatine Horſe, which were commanded to march towards the Palatinate, have received contrary Orders, and are at preſent appointed to take their Winter-Quarters in the Dutchy of Bergues, in order to be in a greater Readineſs for Service in the Low-Countries. We hear from Frankfort, that the Palatine Foot was arrived in the Neighbourhood of that City, with deſign to paſs the Mein, and march into Quarters in the Palatinate. There were many Officers come into thoſe Parts, to raiſe Recruits for the enſuing Campaign.

Briſtol, February 12. This Day ſailed her Majeſty's Ship the Bridgewater, and under her Convoy ſeveral Veſſels bound for Ireland. Her Majeſty's Ship the Haſtings is ſtill in Kingroad, waiting for the Virginia Fleet, and other outward-bound Merchantmen belonging to this Port, who will be ready to ſail next week.

Cowes, February 12. On the 10th Inſtant paſſed through this Road to the weſtward her Majeſty's Ship the Crown, bound, it's ſaid, for Plimouth, with three Ships under her Convoy, for the Canaries. The Wind has blown very hard all this week N. E.
